Three Ancient Magick Spells

First Dollar for Business Success

Have you ever seen store owners stick or pin dollar notes on the wall above the cash register? This is an ancient spell that has been used for centuries. In most countries, they use the first paper money that they get in the transaction.

If it's a large amount, they use the smallest bill from the collection.

Take the note (dollar, peso, pound or other currency) and reserve it. Get a statue or picture of your favorite deity and dedicate this first earned money to this deity. Sprinkle the note with magnetic sand. Burn seven red candles in front of the deity and pin the note in front of the deity or to the side of it.

Some businesses also pin up the first notes of the New Year's Day collections.

Coconut Cleansing Spell

This spell was used to cleanse a home before the family moves in. Get a glass of rum, a tablespoon of Cascarilla power and a whole unbroken but shaved coconut to the corner of the yard furthest from the front door of the house.

Standing in the corner, take a mouthful of the rum. Do not swallow it, but spray it from your mouth over the entire coconut. Sprinkle Cascarilla powder over the coconut. Roll the coconut through your home and out the front entrance. Take it to a four way crossroads, far away from your home.

Circumambulate the four points of the crossroads, offering fruit, candy, coins etc at each corner. Bring the coconut into the center of the crossroads and with all the force you can muster, throw the coconut on the ground so that it breaks into a number of pieces. Leave it there and return home using a circuitous route. Don't look back.

Hecate's Party

This is an ancient method of honoring Hecate, the deity who guards the frontier between the realms of the living and the dead.

Serve any festive meal for this occasion. However, fish is required and the recipe should include with honey and garlic which are sacred to Her. Gather everything and bring it to a three-way crossroads.

Sit down by the roads (if it is safe to do so) and picnic with Hecate. You may leave a plate of food for her, offer it to her and leave without taking anything back. Hecate will use the offerings as She deems fit. She may allow her favorite animals to partake of the offerings or allow birds and feral dogs to take part in the feast. It's her choice and all we need to do is to leave without looking back.

Brightest Blessings.
