How to Become a Good Witch

In addition to being a good, kind human being, a witch should have these attributes:

1. Love for all human beings in the world regardless of race, color, ethnicity, religion, etc
2. Love for all animals, birds, insects and other beings in the world
3. Love and respect for all beings unseen or unheard
4. Love for the Earth, Sky, Air, Water and all Spirits
5. Respect for the environment
6. A yearning to preserve our Earth and its resources
7. A desire to help others
8. A goal never to hurt anyone knowingly or unknowingly
9. Patience to know that some religious people can be ignorant
10. Patience not to flaunt our awareness and knowledge
11. Patience to stay calm in the face of ignorance
12. Be Smart enough to know that all spells may not work
13. Shrewd enough to know when our spells may hurt another unwittingly
14. Smart enough to stay away from trouble
15. Smart enough to stay away from black magic
16. Always aware that there are many ways of helping others
17. Aware enough to know that sometimes people need to help themselves
18. Fairly good or eager to try some gardening
19. Always taking care of the plants and natural resources in the area
20. Aware enough to know that corporations only care for the money they make.
21. Always aware of some people's destructive tendencies and goals
22. Always working to towards neutralizing the energy and powers that go into destroying the rainforests, rivers and virgin lands
23. Always working to reduce environmental pollution
24. Never getting into the habit of cheating, stealing or lying.
25. Always working hand in hand with anyone who is interested in preserving our world, the Planet Earth.

As you can see from the above attributes, a good witch is a good human being. Anyone can become a powerful witch by practicing and yearning to become one. It is all in the power of our minds.

Many young school children wish to become witches after seeing some of the shows on Television or a movie on Witchcraft. They may think that being a witch means that they have powers to make all their wishes come true and that they don't have to work hard any more.

People need to understand that our happiness is not the only criteria for satisfaction in life. As children grow up, they may realize that life is not going exactly to their liking. Then they may want to "direct" life to follow their rules. That is when their life may fall apart and they begin to blame others for their troubles.

The biggest rule that witches need to know and follow is the three-fold law. Anyone can test this rule by trying to break it. The three-fold rule declares that every action we undertake will return with a reaction three times as strong. This means that if we hurt someone even a little, we will soon hear from the Universe in a bigger, more hurtful way. The Universe is composed of every human, animal and thing in this world as well as in other worlds. All of us have powerful energy that we use knowingly and unknowingly.

One way to test this is to see how good your life is. If you are more or less happy with your life and have good friends, it is because you are kind and helping and capable of selfless love: loving or helping someone without expecting something in return.

Those who are always miserable and complaining about how bad their luck is and how no one loves them can look at the mirror and ask themselves whom they have loved unconditionally in the near future.

There is an adage in English "The only love you keep is the love you give away." This means that the laws of the Universe work in such a way that you get what you give others. If you are loving and kind and helpful, others around you will slowly start to change too.

Witchcraft is not just about achieving our dreams and goals; it is also about living in harmony with every entity around us as well as all the entities in all the worlds around us.
