About Advanced Protection Spells

As I mentioned before – one of the worst things I can think of is having an inexperienced Witch cast an Advanced Home Protection Spell (for example) – have the spell fizzle – and go through life thinking her house is protected... when in reality it is wide open to bad energy (and burglaries, theft, bad karma, etc.)

That is why I have only given you some basic protection spells for you to use (that are simple and easy for a beginner to cast). At the end of this page you will find a link to some real magic spells, but they are more basic in nature.

They will offer some protection to you – but there are Advanced Protection spells for almost every kind of protection you would ever need.

There are veils of iron protection for just a single person, home and property protection spells, protection “charm Magick”, and much more. There are even protection spells that will reflect any negative energy someone is sending your way (so that it will “bounce” off you, and back on them).

Note: Keep in mind that the “reflective” protection spells are quite controversial, and you need to meditate on them, and find out what your heart says about them. Some people believe that real magic protection spells reflecting negative energy are a form of attack spells. Others believe that anyone casting bad spells towards you, would get the negative energy back at least 3 times anyway, and that simple reflecting more bad energy back, is not an attack at all. They look at it as a deterrent for that person – to teach them a very important lesson: do not try to harm people with Magick!

I'll reveal Advanced Protection Magick techniques in the Home Academy – and I'll make sure you know exactly what type of protections you need, and how to focus your desire and will to create an impenetrable “wall” of protection around whatever is sacred to you. For now, to practice a real magic spell on your own, just go here.

Candle Egg Fertility Spell - Create your own strong, powerful egg.

* First make the candle mold: punch a small hole in the large end of a raw egg. Use a cuticle scissor to cut out a small circle of eggshell. (Buy a dozen eggs; you may need to practice a bit.)

Empty the egg into a bowl. Use as desired. Gently wash the inside of the eggshell with water. The membrane and all of its content need to be thoroughly removed. Allow it to dry completely.

* Prepare the wax. (You may also add tiny fertility charms or herbs.) Use the egg carton as a holder. Place the eggshell, hole-end up, in the carton. Pour in liquid wax, reserving a little. (When it's half full, you may add tiny seed beads, charms or herbs if you choose, although the candle is effective without them.) Let the wax harden overnight.

* Next day: gently heat the reserve wax until liquid. Gently chip away the shell, exposing your candle. Heat an ice pick or similar sharp thin tool: put it through the center of the candle and quickly thread with a wick. Fill the hole with the hot wax. Decorate. Keep as an amulet or burn in a spell.

More Than a Fling Doll Spell - To turn a casual relationship into something more:

* Cut out dolls to represent each party from an unlaundered bed sheet, stained with sexual fluids. Personalize as much as possible. Embroider or draw names onto the dolls if secrecy is not an issue.

* Fill each poppet with love-herbs: roses, rosemary, orrisroot, heartsease, and vervain. Bind the dolls together, face to face, belly to belly, with scarlet ribbons. Slip the package under the mattress on the side the other party usually sleeps on.
